Summary: On May 11, 2001, Lad Lorenz, Director of Capacity Operations Planning for the Southern California Gas Company (SoCalGas), participated in a telephone conference call with Laura Krannawitter, advisor to Cmmr. Duque. Also participating in the conference were Trina Horner, advisor to Cmmr. Lynch, Belinda Gatti, advisor to Cmmr. Brown, Richard Myers and Serita Servate of the Commission Energy Division, and Pam Nataloni of the Legal Division, Lee Stewart, President of Energy Transmission Systems, Rick Morrow, Vice President of Customer Services, and Paul Borkovich, Senior Market Consultant of Energy Markets, for SoCalGas, and Gillian Wright, Regulatory Case Manager, and Leslie Katz, Regional Vice President of State Regulatory Relations, for Sempra Energy. Written material (attached to the notice) was used. Lorenz introduced a letter that was sent to Cmmr. Lynch detailing SoCalGas' plans to build a pipeline to interconnect with the Kern-Mohave Interstate Pipeline System.

Lorenz explained that this project is the best opportunity to increase natural gas transmission system capacity. Morrow added that the ability to use a route that has already undergone significant environmental review reduces the construction delay by as much as twelve months. Morrow announced that the Line 6900 expansion will likely be completed by May 18, with an in-service date six weeks ahead of schedule.

05/18/01 A00-06-032 Southern California Gas Company, for authority to implement a rate for peaking service as ordered by D.00-04-060

Summary: LATE FILED. On May 10, 2001, Jeff Hartman, Director of Energy Markets, Southern California Gas Company (SoCalGas), met with Julie Halligan, advisor to Cmmr. Bilas, in San Francisco. Also present were Kimberly Freeman, State Regulatory Relations Administrator for SoCalGas, and Michael Florio, Senior Attorney for The Utility Reform Network. Hartman stated that there have been no new interstate pipeline projects in California since 1993 because there has been significant excess pipeline capacity into California. Hartman explained that SoCalGas' objective in developing the peaking rate has always been to create a level playing field between SoCalGas and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission regulated interstate pipelines. Harman further explained that the peaking rate is not stopping generators from locating in the Los Angeles basin. Hartman indicated that the peaking rate ensures that the market has the appropriate pricing signals to make economic decisions about future transportation services. Florio explained that if a customer of a large pipeline company wants transportation service on SoCalGas' system, then they should pay for it without expecting SoCalGas' residential customers to subsidize that service. Florio expressed concern from an environmental standpoint that the absence of a multiple facilities provision encourages gross inefficiencies on the part of generators.
